gram, giving two pipe organ numbers, Prelude and Fugue in E major, by Saint-Saens, and the Marche Nuptaile, by Guilmant.

The chupel choir, composed of seventeen or eighteen members, sang two groups of songs, including the Ave Maria, Cherubim song (Gretchaninoff) Glory to the Trinity, Presentation of Christ in the Temple, Angels Ever Blessed, In Silent Night, May Song, and a Cherubim song by Tschaikowsky. The piano solos were furnished by Mr. W. D. Boughton, and included Etude in F minor, by Liszt, Rhapsodies in E flat minor, by Brahms, Am Meeresstrande, by Kullak, and Tarantelle, by Moszkowski. Miss Helen Hogeboom sang two short numbers, "O Sea, Dreadful Sea," by Delibes, and "Marriage of the Roses," by Franck. A Tschailkowsky number was played by Miss Gladys Gaw, violin, Miss Phebe Gaylord, 'cello, and Mr. Emery Hunt, viola.

The entertainments have been popular and successful and will probably be continued during another season. They may be made a permanent feature of the work of the societies interested. They have furnished a high grade of recreation for those who have attended them. The concert last night was one of classic excellence and educational value.

The annual banquet of the Topeka Grade Teachers' club was held Friday evening in the parlors of the First Methodiat church. The dinner was served at seven o'clock and the dining tables were decorated in yellow roses and candles. Guests of the club were Superintendent and Mrs. H. B. Wilson, Dr. and Mrs. W. A. McCarter, Dr. Alberta Corbin of the University of Kansas, Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Van Horn, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Evans, Judge and Mrs. W. E. Atchison, Mrs. Lowry, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Griggs and Mr. L. M. Penwell. There were one hundred and fity members of the club present.

The after dinner speeches were made by Mrs. Margaret Hill McCarter, Dr. Alberta Corbin, Miss Irene Troxell, Miss Stella Mitchell, Miss Rebecca Welty and Miss Gall Moody. Miss Ruth Barratt, who introduced the speakers, was a graceful and clever toastmistress. The program, which was unique, was carried out in a happy manner. An almanac with a weather bureau report was the basis for all speeches. Miss Barratt represented the weather man in true Kansas style. Miss Troxell responded to the toast, "Cloudy Days Clearing Toward Evening," in rhyme, both witty and full of truth.

Miss Mitchell's toast was a tribute to "Fair Days," which was full of truth.

The above is a reproduction of a photograph recently taken showing the governor, George H. Hodges and his family enjoying one of the many happy, homelike hours when cares of state are forgotten and they listen to the World's greatest musicians and singers as their selections are reproduced by the New Edison Phonograph, one of the governor's gifts to the family at Christmas time.

The sale was made by Mr. Woodward of the Santa Fe Watch Company. No music room or home is complete without one of these wonderful machines, considered by critics to be the limit of human achievement, in recording and reproducing sound.

Do You Know How Paderewski Holds His Hands?

PADEREWSKI ONCE SAID: "Show me how the player. holds his hands and I will show you how much of a mus he is." This great artist spent many years mastering the best method of "holding his hands" that the muscles might respond readily to every dictate and emotion of his intelli gent, musical soul, and enable him properly to interpret and express every note, accept, phrase, dynamic mark, etc.

There are so many vitally important little things in playing that an artist should know, and yet these very exist tial things are everlooked by many artists. Paderevels' great; he is superlative, simply because he is always great little things—small points of tachnic, etc.—He overcame every obstacle, no matter how apparently insignificant.
